Outcomes Research Intern

May 2026 – Jul 2026

- Designed and executed a targeted literature review of over 50 studies, leveraging AI-assisted search strategies to support integrated evidence generation and treatment landscape assessments for global HTA submissions
 - Collaborated with cross-functional clinical teams to develop study definitions and support initiation of a SEER-Medicare real-world evidence study
 - Evaluated HTA deliverables, including AMCP dossiers, Global Value Dossiers, systematic literature reviews, and disease area reviews to support reimbursement and market access evidence generation
- Developed scientific content for international conference abstracts and manuscript review, supporting dissemination of oncology outcomes research to internal and external stakeholders

University of Georgia

Athens, GA

Graduate Research Assistant

Aug 2023 - Present

- Designed health economic models to evaluate the clinical and economic value of oncology therapies through cost-effectiveness analyses incorporating QALYs, healthcare costs, and long-term outcomes
- Designed and conducted systematic literature reviews, meta-analyses, and network meta-analyses to synthesize comparative clinical evidence across oncology and chronic disease populations
- Conducted retrospective observational research using administrative claims databases and FAERS to evaluate treatment patterns, medication adherence, healthcare utilization, and safety outcomes
- Authored abstracts, manuscripts, conference presentations, and scientific communications for peer-reviewed dissemination while collaborating with multidisciplinary research teams

Center for the Evaluation of Value and Risk in Health, Tufts Medical Center

Remote

Summer CEA Registry Fellow

Jun 2025 – Aug 2025

- Synthesized published cost-effectiveness evidence to support value assessment resources used by payers, policymakers, and health systems
- Conducted independent health economic evaluations integrating clinical effectiveness, costs, and quality-adjusted life years (QALYs) to inform healthcare decision-making
- Translated complex health economics data into accessible outputs, contributing to value assessment resources used by payers, policymakers, and health systems.
- Engaged in departmental and national seminars, strengthening expertise in evidence-based, patient-centered research and expanding collaborations with academic, industry, and policy stakeholders
